Bob,
Here's wishing you all the luck
in the world.
Betty Eshelman

Dear Bob:
It sure has been fun having old lady Sabberg around. I'll see you next year. Best of luck

Bob, it's sure been nice having an old pal in some of my classes and I hope we're together again next year. I hope you have lots of luck fishing down Grassy Point and any place you go to. I'll bet you'll be glad to get home. I am sure I did. Thank you.

Mike Saoski.

Hi Bob. Lots of luck to a swell boy who was in my H.R. & what a home room.

Sincerely,
Norma Nelson

The 1950 Echo

Adventure . . . a mystic mood . . . a deceiving word . . days to remember . . . nights to cherish . . . and all a part of Central.

The laughter, the sighs, and the tears . . those everyday occurrences which cause students to nod and say "that's life" . . .

Through the theme Adventure, the Echo Staff hopes to capture this life at Central as it was lived this past year.

. . . so lead on Vic!

the library . . . typical scene any hour of the day.

. . . representative club members inspect their finished product . . . the Coolidge Room.

. . . dismissal bell 3:49 . . . evacuation completed 3:51. (Are we fast!)

. . . and we still boast about the "new aud."

. . . why we are here

Bob,
It's been nice having you in biology. See you next year. Arnold Spain

From 8:48 till 3:49 these scenes are typical of the scholastic activity in Central. Interesting and timely subjects overflow in her classrooms and a vast selection of books line her library shelves. Hardly noticed are the hours flying by . . . for these are Central's classes.

"Back in the stacks" . . .

Drafting students' dreams of constructing are converted to practical plans drafted in Room 206.

Future chemist in the making.

We Dedicate

If it's adventure into the realm of mathematics you desire, Miss Margaret Spielmacher can send you confidently on your way. Firmly, yet kindly, she has guided Central students in their pursuit of mathematical knowledge for more than twenty-five years. Words of praise and thanks keep drifting back from students who leave her classroom: a tribute to her thoroughness, perseverance, and patience.

Action, drama, excitement in her teaching career? Yes, to be sure. As an exchange teacher, Miss Spielmacher was in England in 1939, the year that country entered World War II.

Miss Spielmacher is professionally active, attending several conventions each year. This year she was elected to serve as a vice-president of the Wisconsin Education Association.

Guidance Day (also called College Day) was initiated by Miss Spielmacher in order that the student could be better prepared to select a school to his liking and need.

Because Miss Spielmacher has had Central's interests at heart for so many years, the Echo dedicates its 1950 edition to her.

". . . thoroughness, perseverance, and patience."

In Memoriam...

Richard Fritschler's friends were grieved last November when they heard of his untimely death. Richard, better known as "Dick," was in his sophomore year at Central.

Dick will be remembered by classmates and teachers for his brilliancy which was displayed in many respects: in school he was an honor student; out of school he distinguished himself in his radio hobby, learning code and earning his amateur radio license when he was only 12 years old. A bright smile and ready wit characterized his manner of conversation.

In memory of 15-year-old Dick, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fritschler, and his brother John have established a $1,000 "Dick Fritschler Scholarship" to be awarded to an outstanding graduate of Central for three years, beginning this year. Then the award will be rotated among the three high schools—Cathedral, East, and Central.

In awarding the scholarship these qualities will be considered: character, citizenship, standard of scholarship, and interest and aptitude in science.

Appreciation is expressed here to Dick's family for the memorial they have created—a fine tribute to a beloved son and brother.

adventure through classes

What with games, dances, teas . . . schoolwork at times may have been overshadowed, but we never forgot why we were here and we actually enjoyed our

Freshman Class

"Going my way?" In the beginning, many freshmen were eager to accept help from older students who knew their way around Central's labyrinth of halls and tunnels. But soon the newcomers were finding their way to class meetings to hear clever campaign managers extol the virtues of their candidates.

After getting their officers elected, the freshmen proceeded as usual, seldom meeting as a large group, but often meeting as small groups in homerooms and classrooms. Those required courses — general science, English and physical education — provided interests in common scholastically.

Socially, the "freshies" found themselves at programs, dances, plays, parties (the Boosters had a special welcoming tea for the girls) and other gala school affairs. No, these freshmen no longer need worry about finding their way around Central.

Sophomore Class

Rise and shine . . . that phrase characterized our alert and active sophomores. Well accustomed to Central's way of life, these students began enlarging their activities: many were initiated into clubs and were participating in other extra-curricular doings.

These "sophies" made evident their intelligence in their election of class officers by putting into office their model citizens. Candidates won who showed evidence of progressiveness and ability.

You could find sophomores hovering over a microscope in biology or studying the history of Egypt in world history. Languages were another favored subject of this ambitious group. Proof of this was shown when you approached a cluster of students and heard a foreign tongue mingled with their laughter. All in all a sophomore's life was a jubilant one.

Junior Class

Up and at 'em . . . this slogan was symbolic of the juniors with their eagerness to play leading roles in our school life drama. When electing the four officers to lead their class, they displayed this vigorous spirit with peppy campaign speeches relating humurous incidents, yet emphasizing the seriousness of the job before them.

These kids were also scholastically inclined. They dug in to master such subjects as English and American history, required courses for juniors.

Project of the year for these "eager beavers" was planning and sponsoring the most outstanding social event of the spring — the Junior-Senior Prom. Under the leadership of Lenni Kangas, chairman, prom night provided an evening of splendor.

Socially and scholastically, the juniors had what it takes—that "up and at 'em" spirit.

Charms Renown Capture a Crown

ATHENAE CLUB

Captivating . . . yes, the Athenae girls proved right from the beginning that their charms could capture a crown. Evidence: Audrey Forstrom won the annual Viking Day throne which she shared with fleet-footed football hero, Rodney Lundberg. More evidence: "Swing and Sway," their Viking float, captured first prize.

Then as the year progressed, they had a Christmas mothers' tea and a dinner for their new members.

February brought the formal and informal initiations but most important, the annual sweater dance. Co-chairmen Arlene Sanders and Jeannine Hagen and their committees chose the theme "Schoolday Sweethearts." The Athenaes were seen dancing in their new club sweaters which were white with black and gold insignia.

The last event of the year was the senior dinner for the graduating members.

Middle row: Miss Lomoe, adviser, Edelstein, Ansell, Carlson, McKee, Anderson, Sinclear, O'Brien, Ekstrom, Wolfe, Young, Barbo.

Clever Lasses Add Zest to Classes

BOOSTER CLUB

Vivacious . . . to this group of energetic lasses goes this title, for throughout the school year the Boosters proved their worth. On September 20, the members entertained the freshman girls at their annual tea in the library. Next was homecoming with a glamorous float which took second place in the Viking parade.

And Christmas . . . with a whirling, shimmering tree in the center of the gym, dim lights, and blue streamers . . . brings to mind the Boosters' annual dance and the festive time had by all.

At the informal and formal initiations in February, the Boosters took in 11 new members. Other important events included a St. Patrick's closed dance and a gay spring tea for club members' mothers. Their senior banquet climaxed the year's successful social calendar.

Friendly Girls Like Social Whirls

COQUINA CLUB

Sociability . . . if the excitement of friendly get-togethers is what you are seeking, you need not hesitate to go back through the past school year with the Coquinas.

Their social calendar began with the faculty tea. The decorations were carried out with a harvest theme. In January, a pot luck dinner was given in honor of the new members, followed by the informal and formal initiations in February.

In April the long-awaited spring dance was held. Decorations were set to a theme of spring. Ushering in the new season, the girls arrived in colorful cotton dresses.

Climax of the year was the senior dinner held as a farewell for the graduating members.

Indulging in pre-dinner chatter are Mary, Verna, Jean, Marianne, Joan, Bev, Lois, and Barb.

CRAFT CLUB

Creative . . . describes Central's Craft Club members. A credit to the school and city were the magnificent decorations which adorned the entrance of our school.

Other achievements of the Craft Club were the outstanding sets created for the plays, "Wizard of Oz" and "Little Women." Settings for the Christmas concert also were designed and arranged by the 23 members. Completing the year, they ably assisted with the Junior-Senior Prom decorations and with the commencement pageant setting.

The arrival of new spotlights enhanced the effectiveness of their stagecraft work.

All students who were sincerely interested in expressing themselves through stagecraft were invited to join the group, Mr. Tony Yaworski, adviser, said.

Best wishes in the future.
Don Berystrom

Pro or Con . . . Debaters Went On and On

DEBATE TEAM

Inquiring . . . Should the President of the United States be elected by direct vote? That question was the main issue of the debate team this year.

Coached by Mr. Lyle Maves, 14 ambitious debaters took affirmative or negative sides while participating in many debates. Some of the thrilling tournaments were held in Duluth Central, Duluth Denfeld, Cloquet, and Superior Cathedral. In return, the opposing school debate squads visited us.

The chief purpose of the debate team is to aid high school students in standing before a group and thinking for themselves. They also become acquainted with students of the opposing schools, thus beginning new and fine friendships.

P. A. Greeting Opens Tales of Meeting

RADIO COMMISSION

Rise and shine! Every morning during the first part of second hour we heard the melodious gong and then, "Good morning. Here are your announcements for today." This cheery greeting proceded reminders of meetings, candy sales, and general school information.

Fifteen students from all grades were selected from 60 applicants by four judges. Contestants were judged on clearness, enthusiasm, and enunciation.

Under the guidance of Mr. Lyle Maves, adviser, they were divided into couples, rotating so that each couple gave announcements for one week.

Dual role played by the Radio Commission is to inform Centralites about those things which concern them and to assist the group in developing good speech habits.

DEVIL'S PI STAFF

Persistence . . . that is what kept our Devil's Pi coming.

Yes, there was persistence in the voice of Editor Shirley Rasmussen as she urged her reporters, "Please turn those assignments in on time!"

Did you ever notice the determined look in the eyes of some Pi reporters? They scoured the halls and classrooms to gather the latest facts and fancies that are known to us as news and features to fulfill assignments given them by Diane Holzberg, desk editor.

We surely can't forget the Pi business and mechanical staffs which are equally important. Distribution of the Pi was capably handled by Archie Higgins.

ECHO STAFF

Venture . . . yes, the publishing of the 1950 Echo was an exciting venture which required painstaking but pleasurable hours of work with layouts, copy, and pictures.

With some 30 students on the staff, Echo Editor Clarice Sullivan directed the publication, along with advice offered by Mrs. Betty Jones, adviser.

The theme, color of the cover, and to whom the Echo is dedicated are the main topics which the class votes upon and which are kept secret until the distribution day.

Delores Axelson, advised by Mr. Lyle Maves, tended to publication business with ease and efficiency, directing a staff of student "ad men."

STUDENT COUNCIL

"Wonder Workers" . . . this title may be used to describe Council members elected this year.

Viking Day with its huge parade, game, and coronation dance was engineered by the Council last fall.

With the arrival of T-Day in March, Council members sponsored a lively pep assembly and promoted the wearing of purple and white during tournament time. The series of talent shows to provide noon hour entertainment was a council project, too.

Efforts of a more serious nature included getting the student handbook off to press and striving for improved records in Central's absence and tardiness. Council members also saw fit to contribute a $100 scholarship to a deserving senior student.

Back row: Miss Currie, adviser, Landgreen, Lindbloom, Stalvig, Donnick, Carry, Lahti, Kriegl, Roach, Kendall, Sell, Sharpe, Bushnell, Flood.

Act Well the Part, With All Your Heart

THESPIAN CLUB

"Project your voice" . . . these famous words were heard from Miss Agnes Currie, adviser, during rehearsals. The motto of this play production group is: "Act well your part; there all the honor lies."

Dramatic classes have entertained the school audiences with "The Wizard of Oz," "Little Women," "Journey's End," and "Shubert Alley." The senior class put on "You Can't Take It With You."

The formal initiation for new members was held March 8. Students who had earned the required number of points were eligible for membership at that time. These points may be earned through work on stage sets, publicity, makeup, and costumes as well as through acting. The Thespian club is an honor organization which is non-secret and non-social.

"The show must go on!" exclaim Duane, Bruce, Jerry, and Carl, as they eagerly apply their make-up.

HI-Y CLUB

Sportsmanship . . . Central's Hi-Y Club continually endeavored to produce good sportsmanship among the student body. A dance in the fall which featured "Black Magic" as the theme was free to all Centralites.

Monday during noon hour found the members in Room 237 for their round-table discussion meetings with versatile Don Skudstad acting as president. Vice president was all-around boy Glen Reed, and Senior Class President Ed Bankey served as secretary. Friendly "Mac" (George McAuley) was treasurer and football-famed Gerold Finckler served as sergeant-at-arms.

Twenty new members went through both informal and formal initiations this year, which boosted membership to 42.

A closed dance, a pep assembly, and several outings completed the list of affairs in which the Hi-Y boys participated. Mr. Warren Peters was the club adviser.

Caught in the "Black Magic" of the Hi-Y's annual fall dance are these spinning couples.

They Can Boast of Lads Doing Most

SHUTTERMAN CLUB

Dynamic . . . yes, truly the Shuttermen have experienced one of their most dynamic years. Beginning the year with a float that drew third place in the homecoming parade, initiating nine new members, and sponsoring various social events, the Shuttermen were a busy lot.

Boasting such members as basketball stars Charley Anderson, Jim Wiesner, Bucky Carlstrom, and Bernie Tomzak, energetic Student Council President Fritz Thomson, All-State Center Chuck Chellman, and a long list of others, the Shuttermen were well represented in school affairs.

Photography as a hobby gave these fellows a mutual interest which provided lively conversation whenever they met.

Officers were Charley Anderson, president; James Wiesner, vice president; Oliver Williamson, secretary; and Fred Thomson, treasurer. Adviser to the group was Mr. Joseph Sitek.

Party clothes are worn by belles and beaux at the Shutterman formal banquet.

Good Citizens These, With Deeds Did Please

It's tournament time and the L. D. P. boost school spirit with decorative favors.

L. D. P. CLUB

Active citizens . . . not only in the club but all around the school, LDP members exercise the qualities of good citizenship. They meet bi-monthly to plan such activities as their closed dance, formal and informal initiations, and their senior banquet. This year, favors were made and sold for T-Day.

Each of the members may be considered an attribute to the school as well as to the club. For instance, Delores Axelson was elected Central's DAR "good citizenship" candidate.

The Leroy Doleysh Post is an honor organization which may be joined by students who have received the American Legion awards before coming to Central.

Dear Bob
Best of Luck to a swell kid. I hope I see you next year.

Dear Bob watch out for the girls and get that big ole muscle this summer. Tracy

S CLUB

"S" . . . swell fellows, select athletes, satisfying club . . . that's our S Club. With lettermen from an outstanding football club and with championship-material basketball players, this group stands on its good record. Coach Harry Conley was adviser to these boys.

The group, composed of lettermen only, offers its services to various athletic activities. Ushering and acting as ticket helpers at the sub-regional tournament at Superior this year, the group was thorough in its undertakings.

Yes, an outstanding addition to Central's athletic records was achieved through these '49-50 lettermen. Hats off to them!

Excited . . . yes, excited only partly describes the expression on the faces of the German children when they received the Red Cross packages sent them by Central's Junior Red Cross.

Under the direction of Miss Alice Lomoe, who has done fine work in organizing and directing the activities of this worthy group, Junior Red Cross members, elected in the homerooms, launched their activities with the annual Red Cross drive for membership. Top honors went to these homerooms: 103, Mr. George Harding; 207, Miss Lillian Berg; and 129, Mr. Rene Moe.

For the time and work the 40 members of the Red Cross gave, their efforts were rewarded by letters of thanks and gratitude from needy children in Europe.

Boys and girls receiving these boxes will wear smiles like those of the senders—Joan, Margie, and Lois.

By the interested expressions it's evident that Dean has something new to offer.

S. O. S. CLUB

Important undertaking . . . the work of compiling a directory with the names, addresses, and phone numbers of every student and teacher in Central was undertaken as a part of the S. O. S. Club's ambitious program this year.

In conjunction with the club's policy of having every member work on a scientific project, Herbert Hemmila constructed a Crookes tube which showed the flow of electrons.

Besides their regular business meetings, the club members tried to have at least one program of a scientific nature each month. Some of the programs have consisted of movies, while at one Professor Schrieber of Superior State College demonstrated the wonders of Black Light.

This educational and highly interesting club has completed its second successful year at Central.

They Found Pleasure in Music Measure

Ambitious . . . that describes the attitude of Junior Band members who are striving to take their place in Central's Senior Band. They are proud of ambitious members like Nancy Christenson, coronet player, Ronald Nickolette, trumpet player, and Doris Raulerson, bell player, who played solos at various churches in the city.

From peppy marches like "Platoon" to dreamy waltzes such as "Elva," this musical minded organization puts on a pleasing performance.

Finesse . . . expressive music was played by the String Ensemble which entertained on several occasions during the year. The program at the Vocational School at Christmas time remained utmost in the players' minds. At private parties throughout the year, the group played such selections as Shubert's "Moment Musical," "Menuetto," and Auer's "Romantic Concert Folio." Along with the violins, violas, cellos, and basses, a piano was sometimes used.

STRING ENSEMBLE

VOCAL ENSEMBLE

They Passed the Test; Their Voices Were Best

Above average . . . voice quality, outstanding work in the choir, and ability to sing well together were the points considered by Mr. Louis A. Meier, director, when the Vocal Ensemble was selected in March. Because of the late date of organization, their appearances were limited, the most important performance being their part in the spring concert.

This group consisted of twelve members from the tenor and bass sections of the Senior Choir. The delicate blending of these voices gave the Vocal Ensemble a high place with the rest of Central's fine musical organizations.

Quality . . . quality in tone, in depth, in voice . . . in what else but the Triple Trio?

Twelve girls in Senior Choir were chosen to sing in the trio this year. Alternates for each part were chosen, too, in case members were absent.

Among the places the girls performed were the Rotary Club, Methodist Church, Masonic Temple, and Vocational School. Audiences were impressed with such renditions as "Solitude," "Whispering Hope," "Beside Still Waters," and "Singing Leaves of Fall," the latter a song which their director, Mr. Louis A. Meier, composed.

TRIPLE TRIO

Anderson; french horns: Newlander, Harris, Wick, Andrews; baritones: Hammerbeck, Hendrickson; trombones: Ellison, McAuley, Skudstad; saxaphones: Apps, R. Peterson, Falstad, Flood; alto clarinet: Wiseman; oboe: Dickman; flute: Nelson, Rusch; twirlers: Bloomster, Palmer, Weyant, Arnt.

Absent when picture was taken: Solem, C. Johnson, Sharpe, Jeffery, Lackens, Swedeen.

Our Spirited Band Was Always in Demand

Because of their outstanding ability, Jeff and Marj participated in the all-state band.

SENIOR BAND

Thrilling . . . indeed it was a thrill to see and hear Central's 65-piece Senior Band when it appeared proudly wearing purple-and-white outfits and playing the rousing songs that students enjoy.

How did the Senior Band acquire skill to put on fine performances? The answer lies in this quotation: "Eight o'clock tomorrow morning," announced Director S. Brinley Shaw. First hour every morning, the band was heard practicing songs, such as, "Roll On to Victory," "On Wisconsin," "Bandanage for Brasses," "Sequoia," and "Repartee."

Members Jeffery Sell and Marjorie Rusch were sent to Madison to take part in the all-state band.

The band looked forward to the annual band picnic which was held in the spring.

Dual purpose of the band is to provide enjoyment for those who love music and to fulfill the desires of the students who want to study music.

SENIOR ORCHESTRA

Unusual . . . very unusual was the fine music offered by Central's orchestra this year. The organization, made up of students who are interested in orchestral music, boasted 37 members.

Several performances were given. Yet, the outstanding one was the orchestra concert which was presented in the spring. This year, the program included the Hayden "Surprise Symphony," and Edward Grieg's "The Spring Song" and "The Story of Peter and the Wolf." When the orchestra appeared with the Senior Choir prior to Christmas vacation, it gave a fine performance, too.

The orchestra consisted of such instruments as violins, violas, cellos, basses, woodwinds, and brasses. It is under the direction of Mr. William Keller, who has completed his third year at Central.

Officers for the year were: Betty Barbo, president; Ruth Wahlstrom, vice president; Mary Ellen Sinclear, secretary; and Carlette Pederson ,treasurer.

Proficiency in orchestral work is displayed by Betty, Ruth, Marie, and John

To the Senior Choir's Tone Perfection

Applause for an excellent performance is the reward for diligent choir practice.

SENIOR CHOIR

"Perfection is our aim." This is the motto of all Senior Choir members whose rehearsing has attracted many a Viking to Room 202 every second or third hour. This organization is composed of 109 talented juniors and seniors who really work for their results.

Among their performances are the annual Christmas and spring programs. Perhaps the presentations they are well remembered by this year are Mr. Meier's own composition, "Talli Hi, Talli Ho," at Christmas time and an unusual and unforgettable arrangement of "Begin the Beguine" in the spring. In addition to these concerts, they are credited with many outside appearances.

This is Mr. Meier's 23rd senior choir. Yes, since 1926 this organization has been under his skillful direction. Mr. Louis A. Meier's pride and joy has been truly a credit to Central this 1949-50 school year.

They Passed the Test; Their Voices Were Best

MELODEERS

Determination . . . the girls' determination this year made the Melodeers the best. They were always busy performing not only for school programs but also for civic and church gatherings.

An outstanding soloist in the soprano section was Joyce Pederson, who has made her debut along with many others this year.

A good pianist and fine soloist, too, was Emelie Gradin. Marlene Thompson, the accompanist of the girls, added much to help them keep their beautiful work in key and in perfect harmony.

Here is one example of how determination brings good results and leaves satisfied audiences.

HARMONEERS

Harmony . . . that is what is heard when the Harmoneers sing. This group of freshmen boys with good voices practiced for their appearances after school and at noon in Miss Lillian Berg's room.

The Harmoneers made many appearances during the school year at church and civic programs and at Central's Easter concert. Some of the songs heard at these appearances were "Who's That Tapping at My Door?," "Stouthearted Men," "Southern Memories," and "Deep River."

Arlyn Anderson, fine soloist, is but one of the promising young freshman singers.

Back row: Bergstrom, Landrum, Mr. Moe, Olson.

In Serving All, They Answered the Call

VISUAL AIDS

Interesting . . . films shown by the Visual Aids department throughout the school year were interesting adventures into the worlds of chemistry, physics, biology, social sciences, and many other studies.

Visual Aids work is voluntary and anyone is eligible to become a member of this group. The operators range from freshmen to seniors. This year, the only girl operator was Jean Filbey.

A system whereby the 12 operators work in pairs, alternating every other week, proved a successful pattern to follow.

Dear Bob,
Its been nice knowing you these last couple years. Best of luck.
the
you
Doris Fido

CUSTODIANS

Stop! Now look around. Whether you're inside Central or out on the school grounds, have you ever thought about who shovels the walks or who cuts the lawn? Maybe you have never given a second thought about who keeps the floors clean. Remember the time your locker wouldn't open? Who opened it? Yes, one of Central's able custodians.

If everyone who is served by the custodians were to thank them personally, our dawn-to-dusk workers would be overwhelmed with messages of appreciation.

A Tumbling Feat Was Quite a Treat

TUMBLERS

Daring . . . that's the word for many of the routines which the tumbling squad has mastered. Daring is the name for the lassies who performed such stunts as diving, rolling, and the ever popular cartwheel.

These girls have come back into activity after a year of absence. They have had the courage to bring back into use the horse and buck in aerial work.

At the Ashland game on December 9, they put on a fascinating exhibition. In the small gym every Tuesday and Thursday, these graceful young girls held meetings. Nimble Shirley Williams was the squad manager.

Behold these tumbling artists, who flew through the air with the greatest of ease.

TWIRLERS

Stamina . . . through rain, heat, and cold weather, Central's energetic twirling squad is always on the job. The girls have shown spirit, pep, and ability . . . the qualities that constitute a good twirling squad.

Appearing at several football and basketball games and taking an active part in many parades in Superior, the twirlers have been enthusiastically received by their audiences. A variety of routines were displayed in the performance the 39 twirlers gave in Duluth's Centennial parade.

Pert and peppy Mary Weyandt headed the squad, to which Mrs. Marion Thompson acted as adviser.

G. A. A.

Adventure in the sports field is the outstanding purpose of this peppy organization. Tournaments, various athletic activities, and friendly get-togethers are all part of a busy member's program. The Girls' Athletic Association is open to any high school girl who is willing to come out to have fun in athletics.

A rousing pep assembly was given November 18 by them to boost spirit for the opening basketball game with Duluth Central.

This organization was just one year old in January but has grown tremendously. The G. A. A. boasts 82 voting members and 425 participating ones.

President Joan Blashaw and advisers—Miss Eleanor Guse, Miss Lois Kasmark, and Mrs. Marion Thompson—are to be complimented on their splendid work.

Click . . . flash . . . another picture has been taken for the Echo. The Echo photographers, directed by Mr. Joseph Sitek, work many hours, not only taking pictures for the yearbook, but also developing, printing, and enlarging photographs.

Each of the boys maintained a good scholastic standing throughout the year as he proved his ability in the field of photography. All these boys had experience which qualified them to do this work.

In addition to activity shots, the group took on the added task of posing and taking formal group pictures of underclassmen and organization members.

The Echo editorial staff fully employed the talents of these energetic boys, who willingly fulfilled the numerous picture orders sent to them.

Joan Carlson may well be called the student artist of the year: she created the library Christmas diorama and fashioned Vic Viking, the Echo's adventurer.

Glen Reed and Delores Axelson have something to smile about . . . they were selected for two annual senior honors—the Rotary Club's St. Paul trip for a boy, the DAR award for a girl.

Season's Summary

The Vikings sailed through a seven-game schedule, only losing the final contest to the mighty Hurley Midgets. Florian Helinsky's 109-yard run in the waning minutes of the game spelled defeat for the Centralites. Chuck Chellman was named on the all-state team to fill the center position. Rod Lundberg gained honorable mention on the dream team. All of the starting eleven will graduate this year, but will take with them the memory of a very successful season including the city championship and the Twin Ports titles.

COACH NORMAN OLSON

Vikings Defeat Old Abes in Opener

Central's Vikings showed a powerful backfield and strong line as they defeated the Eau Claire Old Abes, 12-0. Whit Archambault scored first on a wide sweep around right end in the third quarter. Eau Claire's fumble on its own 18-yard line set the stage for the final Viking touchdown. Rod Lundberg carried the ball the remaining yardage on the next play.

Hilltoppers Defeated by Vikings, 20-6

The Vikings' aggression drove 67 yards in seven downs with George Van Buren scoring from the 10-yard line for the first touchdown. Gene Rich scored from the 3-yard line for the second Viking tally. Rod Lundberg went over from the 12-yard line for the last touchdown. The Vikings gained 299 yards to 212 for the Hilltoppers of Duluth Cathedral.

Vikings Drub Denfeld, 13-0

Rod Lundberg scored on the opening kickoff with an 80-yard run through the entire Hunter team. Rod Lundberg also scored the Vikings' final touchdown in the last period with a 21-yard sprint. Whit Archambault's line smashes helped to spark the Centralites on to victory. The Vikings' line performed admirably to hold the powerful Hunters scoreless.

Vikings Rally to Defeat Ashland, 32-20

Breaking their four-year homecoming jinx, the Vikings defeated the mighty Purgolders. Rod Lundberg scored four times on runs of 35 yards in the second quarter, 75 yards in the third quarter, and added drives of 18 yards and 3 yards in the final period of play. Charlie Chellman continued his interception record by running 65 yards after snaring one of the Purgolders' aerials.

1—Jim Wiesner snags pass in romp over Duluth Central.

2—George Van Buren and Chuck Chellman stop Visnia as Vikings triumph.

3—Ashland's Foley swarmed under by Vikings.

4—Vikings break homecoming jinx as they stop Ashland.

Vikings Blank Crosstown Rivals

The Conleymen downed a fighting Superior East team 33-0 to protect their undefeated record. Jerry Finckler scored first on a 65-yard run. Chellman followed by intercepting a pass and scoring on a 25-yard dash. Lundberg scored the next two touchdowns on beautiful runs of 40 and 80 yards. The last Viking TD came on a pass from Finckler to George McAuley. Don Larsen made three out of five placements for a final score of 33-0.

Vikings Capture Twin Ports Crown

Rod Lundberg scored twice and Gene Rich once as the Vikings defeated the Duluth Central Trojans, 20-13. Scoring twice in the first quarter and once in the third, Central protected its perfect record for the season. The Trojans threatened many times, but found the Viking defense too difficult to penetrate. Larsen kicked two out of three placements to make the final score 20-13.

Hurley Upsets Vikings, 27-20

A 109-yard run by Hurley in the closing minutes of the last game ruined Central's chance to finish the season undefeated. Gerald Finckler scored once on an 84-yard run and once on a 75-yard kickoff return. Archambault scored the final Viking TD on a 2-yard plunge. Larsen made two out of three placements.

Vikings, paced by Rod Lundberg, defeat Purgolders.

Vikings Have Brilliant Season

Central's Vikings finished a tough 16-game schedule with 14 victories against two defeats. The lone defeats came at the hands of Cathedral, 30-26 and of the Ashland Purgolders, 56-49.

Coach Olson's crew copped the Little Big Ten championship with a one-point 48-47 win over Duluth Central. They compiled a 10-1 record in their conference play. Also falling into the hands of the Vikings was the mythical city championship. They defeated East twice and split their two games with Cathedral.

Turning to tournament play, the Vikings reached the finals of the sectional tournament held at Ashland. In the sub-regional and regional tourneys, Central defeated East in the first game, 53-39 and followed this victory up by overpowering last year's state champs, the Hurley Midgets, 56-49. In the finals, the Vikings edged past the Park Falls Cardinals, 44-41.

In the first game of the sectional play, Central trounced Rib Lake, 69-33 with all of the Vikings' ten tournament players seeing action. On the following evening, the Centralites absorbed a bitter loss to the underrated Rhinelander Hodags, 35-33, thus eliminating them from competition in the WIAA tournament.

The big guns for the Vikings this season were Glen Reed and Charlie Anderson with 273 and 249 respectively. Norm Peterson, stellar guard who saw limited action during midseason because of a knee injury, collected 126 points, and Bernie Tomzak, pairing off at the other forward with Reed, dropped in 123 points.

Two other Vikings added a substantial number of points to help the team achieve its brilliant record. They were Buck Carlstrom and George Van Buren, both alternating at one of the guard posts, with 78 and 77 points respectively. Jim Wiesner also saw considerable action for the Vikings. He added 56 points to help bring the total Central scoring to 1,036 points. Their opponents were held to 826 points.

Glen Reed and Norm Peterson were nominated to the all-tournament team, while Chuck Anderson was chosen to the second team.

Counting all games—conference, non-conference, and tournament play—the Vikings latched on to a 18-3 record for the season. For a few weeks, the WIAA rated them the top team in the state. Although they didn't finish the season as top team, they compiled a good enough average to be fifth best team in the state.

CHEERLEADERS

Sparkling . . . expresses the way that the enthusiastic cheerleaders led their yells.

Performing at games and pep rallies, they spurred on the students to cheer the players, who chalked up a lion's share of wins. Attractively clad in their new uniforms, these lively girls led the way to Viking victories.

How did they get these uniforms? Through hard work is the answer. With the help of the Student Council and through the girls' selling popular purple and white beanies, the cheerleaders obtained money to buy the ensembles.

As these girls rhythmically gave out with cheers, the crowd was attracted by their full gored skirts with alternating purple and white stripes. School colors also were carried out in their white blouses, stockings, and shoes and in their purple vests and tights.
